OLD GLENLIVET.

THIS WHISKY is a blend from some of the most noted Distilleries in Scotland, and is guaranteed to consist of Pure Malt Spirit only. It is thoroughly matured, very mellow, and entirely free from any smoky or objectionable flavour.

As large holders of the different kinds from which the Blend is made, we are in a position to allow the various distillings to become thoroughly amalgamated before being bottled, an advantage which consumers of the article will readily appreciate.

TREACHER and Co. feel that it would be an insult to the intelligence of their constituents to put forward Chemical Analysis and Medical Reports regarding this "Fine Old Spirit," as, however, gratifying these may be in themselves, they are obviously useless as affording a guarantee that the Spirit offered is the same as that commented upon.

TREACHER and Co. consider that the proper test of excellence of any article consists in the demand for it, and judged by that standard, the fact that the sale of their "Fine Old Glenlivet" has increased more than tenfold during the past three years, and continues monthly to increase, may be accepted as conclusive proof of its character and value.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, DEC. 27.

SINCE the date of our last, the Christmas holidays have intervened, and the Banks have only been open for two days out of the six. The holiday appearance still prevails, and is likely to continue until after the new year. Our report must therefore necessarily be a short one, there being no new feature of general interest either in our import or export trades. In Cotton the tone has been better in consequence of a slight improvement in American "futures," but to-day the upward movement has received a light check. The probable size of the new American Crop is still engaging attention, and estimates vary considerably. Six millions of bales is still the favourite figure, but there are several who lean towards an outturn of 6½ millions. With either estimate, and the supplies from other sources, there will be sufficient raw material for all trade requirements, so that any rapid advance in prices might seriously check consumption. The manufacturing industry in Lancashire is in a very bad state, and the relations between labour and capital as every attempt to reduce wages become more strained. For sometime past production has out-stripped consumption, and this is by no means confined to a single trade. The power of machinery is now such that the slightest demand for manufactures is met with promptitude, and any lull in the strain but too often results in accumulation of stocks, and consequently depressed markets. In the carrying trade the progress during recent years has been most remarkable, and the Cereal crops of the East and West are now laid down in Europe with great rapidity. Although the harvests of this year in America and some other wheat-producing countries fall short of those for 1882, so heavy are the accumulated stocks in British and Continental ports that trade continues to drag, and may do so until the spring. The movement in Oilseeds continues on a fair scale. There is a slight improvement in freights, but on the whole they are low when compared with those which have hitherto ruled at this time of the year. For Liverpool viâ Canal 23s. 9d. is about the current quotation for measurement: weight on the old scale of 16 cwts. 2a. 6d. less. The new tonnage scale by which produce falling short of dead weight is adjusted on the basis of 40 cubic feet per ton, comes into force on the 1st proximo. By this arrangement wheat, which has hitherto been booked at 16 cwts. per ton (or 35 cubic feet), will be booked at 18 cwts. Several charters of outside steamers have already been made on this basis, but the regular Liners still hold out for the old scale. It has been pointed out that a concession is now made by the latter in booking wheat, nearly equal in percentage to the increased weight wanted by shippers, so that no monetary loss of importance would result from the change. In chartering vessels for lawful merchandize this concession was not usually given, so that the adjustment is only a wise precaution on the part of merchants who, in paying for 40 cubic feet, hold that they are entitled to that space so long as they do not exceed dead weight. An objection to a sudden increase in weight has been put forward, and it is to be regretted that it should arise in an article which requires every encouragement to enable us to compete successfully with America. On the opening of the Suez Canal and before then cotton was booked as measurement on the present scale of 40 feet, and yet there has been a larger percentage of increase in the weight of this article than that now asked for wheat. Fifteen years ago the cubic contents of a bale of 392 lbs. cotton was about twelve and a half cubic feet. The same quantity is now compressed into ten cubic feet, or less. In Imports, the demand for Grey Goods is slack owing to the accumulation of stocks. Copper is quiet. Money is in rather more demand and the feeling in Government paper is weaker. In the Share market there is not much going on. Exchange is firmer and at the time we write the tendency is upward.

MONEY.—The Bank of Bombay's return for the week ending on Saturday, the 22nd instant, shows the following alterations :—

	Amount.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Public Deposits at H. O.	67,95,529	30,86,756	...
Do. do. Branches	23,.6,581	5,67,987	...

Cash Balances with Correspondents ...	5,16,772	...	5,87,389
ash & Currency Notes.	89,65,772	...	12,84,315

The above statement shows an improved inquiry for capital, and the tone of the bazaar is also firmer. The trade demand as indicated by the loan and discount accounts shows an increase of 13½ lakhs. Part of the movement in deposits may be due to the holidays. The cash balance—89½ lakhs—is very moderate, seeing that we are on the eve of the new year when the volume of business generally begins to increase.

EXCHANGE on the mail opened firm on the basis of 1s. 7 9-16d. to 19-32d. for demand Bank bills, and 1s. 7 25-32d. to 13-16d. for three months' credits, and these rates were well maintained on Saturday, although there was not much business reported. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the Banks were closed, but on the resumption of business on Thursday morning a much firmer tendency became apparent. The Banks were ready drawers at about 1-32d. over the rates named above, but private paper was more difficult to dispose of. We quote :—

Bank Bills on Demand ...	1s. 7 19 32 d. to 1s. 7¾d.
Do. February ...	1s. 7 21 32d. to 1s. 7 11-16d.
Do. Telegraphic Transfer ...	1s. 7 9-16d.
Do. 3 months' sight ...	1s. 7 23-32d.
Credits. 3 months' sight ...	1s. 7 7-32d.
France, 3 months' sight ...	Fcs. 2·32.

The last quotaion for Bar Silver given by Reuter is 50¾d. per oz., but private advices name 51d. Before the holidays set in, some sales of the Secretary of State's telegraphic transfers at 1s. 7 17-32d. took place, but nothing appears to have been done on Wednesday last, that being a public holiday in London according to Sir John Lubbock's Bank Act.

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been weaker and rates have further fallen. We quote :—4 per cents Rs. 97⅞ : 4½ per cents Rs. 101¾.

SHARES.—We have very few transactions to record this week. Some Bank of Bombays have changed hands at the advanced rate of Rs. 756½. In Press securities a few Mofussils were sold at Rs. 142½ and New Indians at Rs. 213. Very little doing in Land shares. There is a depressed feeling for Mill shares, and rates have declined in some cases. Alliances have been done at Rs. 925 ; Bombay Uniteds at Rs. 1,070 ; Dhurrumseys at Rs. 522½ ; Hindostans at Rs. 1,030 ; Jewraz Balloos at Rs. 1,232½ ; Khandeish at Rs. 915 ; Khataos at Rs. 1,075 ; Manockjee Petits at Rs. 1,410 ; Nationals at Rs. 990 ; New Great Easterns at Rs. 1,110 ; Orientals at Rs. 705 ; Prince of Wales at Rs. 270 ; Sholapores at Rs. 1,510 ; and Western Indias at Rs. 985. Bombay and Burmah Tradings have given way to Rs. 5,400 for the original, and Rs. 1,095 for the new issue.

IMPORTS.

GREY GOODS are quiet and the business reported during the past week has been on a restricted scale. This is due in some measure to the low prices ruling in Calcutta, and some of the Marwaree dealers are giving a preference to that market. The large stocks now in the hands of native importers are also having a depressing effect. There is very little doing in indents, notwithstanding the rise in sterling exchange. The demand for Local Manufactures is of a limited character. In Grey Yarns there is not much doing in English makes of 30's water, and stocks are increasing. Local counts are dull owing to the unsatisfactory reports received from China and Japan.

COALS.—There is an active inquiry for cargoes on the spot. We quote :—Welsh Hartley Rs. 19, West Hartley Rs. 20, and Cardiff Rs. 22 per ton alongside.

EXPORTS.

COTTON opened quiet but steady, and an improved demand was apparent up to the close of business on Saturday. The past three days were partially observed as Christmas holidays, but there was a fair inquiry in the market notwithstanding, owing to the firm nature of American advices, and prices have advanced about Rs. 3 to Rs. 4 per candy. A good many transactions have taken place chiefly in New Cottons. The tone at the close is quiet in consequence of the drop in the price of "futures," and on the part of exporters there is less willingness to operate.

The movements of Cotton to date show the following comparisons with the two previous years :—

Receipts.	1883.	1882.	1881.

WHEAT has remained in a depressed state, and although some transactions are reported on export account, the tendency is weaker, and prices have given way about 8 annas per candy. We quote :—White Pessie, Rs. 29½ to Rs. 30 ; Yellow, Rs. 23 to Rs. 23½ ; Luskari, Rs. 21½ to Rs. 22 ; and Cutha, Rs. 18½ to Rs. 19 per candy.

LINSEED has remained quiet and small purchases were made in ready lots at Rs. 5-13 per cwt. New Seed for April-May delivery was done to a small extent at Rs. 5-8.

RAPESEED has been in limited request, but prices have been well maintained. The transactions consist chiefly of Cawnpore and Brown sorts. A forward sale in the latter is reported to have taken place at Rs. 6-5 per cwt., April-May delivery. Very little doing in Guzerat. We quote :—Guzerat, Rs. 7-12 to Rs. 8 per cwt. ; Cawnpore Rs. 7-8 to Rs. 7-10 ; Brown, Rs. 6-14 to Rs. 7.

GINGELLY-SEED has been in moderate demand, and a fair business has taken place in spot parcels at about last week's rates. We quote :—White Howri, Rs. 35 to Rs. 36-8 per candy ; Mixed, Rs. 33 to Rs. 34-8 ; Brown, Rs. 33 ; Black, Rs. 31.

In POPPY-SEED there have been a few transactions at Rs. 6-4 to Rs. 6-8 per cwt.

DEFECTIVE OR FAILING SIGHT.

THE sense of sight is so valuable that the importance of perfect and carefully adjusted spectacles can scarcely be overrated ; although the wearing of single eye-glasses should be strictly avoided, we have the highest medical authority, confirmed by daily experience, that imperfect glasses, together with the haphazard plan of selection generally employed, are frequent causes of irremediable injury to the sight ; and as no present economy can compensate for such a loss, it behoves all to be cautious how they are tempted to use the common pebble or glass spectacles now so generally sold.

For the guidance of those who are using pebble spectacles, it may be stated that when the pebbles are cut against the grain, and not polished on the principle which has been universally declared the most appropriate, based on scientific research, they are injurious to the sight.

Unadvisable as the unnecessary wearing of spectacles undoubtedly is, the common notion that their use should be postponed to the utmost is proved beyond dispute to be a grave mistake.

Being in possession of all the optical instruments taken over by us from Dr. A. Meyer, we are not only in a position to suit the eye sight to perfection, but to supply different accommodations for each eye which so frequently are needed.

The Bombay Gazette

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1883.

IT is satisfactory to hear that in spite of the gloomy prognostications which accompanied the opening of the International Exhibition at Calcutta it is likely to prove a decided success. From 15,000 to 20,000 visitors go to see it every day, and the interest shows no signs of abating, but rather the contrary. The Indian portion of the Exhibition is admitted on all hands to be the best, and it is additionally pleasant to learn that, of the sub-divisions of India, the Bombay Presidency is—not to put it boastingly—unsurpassed by any other. This is the more gratifying as there was for a moment some misgiving accompanied by heart-burnings in regard to the figure which Bombay would make on the occasion. The natural products of this Presidency, its artistic work, and the manufactured articles, combine to form one of the most interesting and effective displays. That appears to be the general opinion in Calcutta itself. The mill industry of this city is well represented, especially by Mr. Dinshaw Maneckjee Petit's display. It is to be hoped that the result will reward the exhibitors for their trouble and outlay, and that the trade of the city and the Presidency will be largely benefited. We understand that those who are taking thought for the Exhibition of Indian products to be held in London two years hence have been much struck by the Bombay exhibits, and they have drawn special attention to them in their reports addressed to the Prince of Wales, who is at the head of the organising committee in London. The European and Australian exhibits are not altogether on a level with those of India, though they of course have a value of their own. They are wanting in general effect, resembling too closely the ordinary contents of well-supplied shops. The tinned meats, preserves, and wines and leather of Australia are suggestive enough to the mercantile eye, but they cannot be said to contribute to any great extent to the coup d'œil of the Exhibition.

The display in Calcutta is more an Indian than an international one, and in it the Bombay Presidency has a leading place. So far well. But a good deal remains to be done. The awards have yet to be given. While the juries are deliberating it would be prudent, and indeed necessary, that the Presidency should be represented by some competent official who could supply information and take care that the interests of Bombay exhibitors are not lost sight of. Calcutta exhibitors are themselves on the spot, and their interests are not likely to be ignored with the press and the Government and all sorts of social influence present to see justice done. Mr. J. H. Grant, the Collector of Bombay, who was appointed by the Government as Special Commissioner to look after the interests of the Bombay Presidency in connection with the Exhibition, returned from Calcutta to Bombay on Saturday last. He was accompanied by Mr. M. Mowat, who, as chairman of the Bombay Committee, proceeded to Calcutta to lend a hand in the arrangements connected with its opening. Both gentlemen did good service in Calcutta. It is to be regretted, however, that Mr. Grant at all events was not permitted to remain there until the awards had been given and the catalogues completed. The catalogue of natural products has been issued, but the other catalogues have not. If the Government cannot spare the services of Mr. Grant for a longer term, it is to be hoped that provision will be made otherwise for the due fulfilment of the important duties yet remaining to be dealt with ; it is penny wisdom to leave it to mere subordinates to answer the questions of jurors, when it is a question of awarding prizes and medals. Besides, as we have said, it is important that the compilation of the catalogues should be completed as promptly and as efficiently as possible. Somebody should be deputed to put that work through with all possible vigour. H. E. the Governor, who visited the Exhibition and made considerable purchases there, has taken great interest in the part which Bombay plays therein. It is to be hoped that he will appoint some one to represent the interests of the Presidency in Calcutta for some weeks longer, until the exhibitors have obtained the fruits of their exertions in furtherance of the objects of the Exhibition.

Something has been said of an intention on the part of M. Joubert to organise an Exhibition to be held in Bombay next year or the year after. If the energetic and capable entrepreneur ever had such an intention he has, we understand, altogether abandoned it. The Calcutta Exhibition, it is hoped, will eventually pay. But for a time there was room for trepidation. The rain came down when it was not expected ; the electric light failed at first, and the attractions did not draw. Now all is going well, and the money is coming in at the doors. But it is coming in in four-annabits ; the multitude is flocking to the place, and upon their continuing to do so the financial issue of the enterprise depends. The multitude, however, does not consist of the eight hundred thousand inhabitants of the capital : their curiosity could be soon exhausted ; it is composed of the Mofussilites, of whom there are seventy millions in Bengal. The city of Bombay has eight hundred thousand inhabitants as well as Calcutta ; but where are the seventy millions to back them up ? Not in the Konkan certainly—the sixteen millions of this Presidency are far afield, and there is no cheap and easy river communication to bring them to our doors. So at least M. Joubert reasons, and if there be no flaw in his logic—what we are inclined to hold there is—he is disposed to act upon his view of the case, and have nothing to do with an Exhibition in Bombay. His doubts are not, however, shared by everybody. We have grounds for believing that a suggestion has been made in influential quarters that an International Exhibition should be held in this city. It is considered to be quite possible to raise the necessary funds. The productions, natural, artistic, and manufacturing, of the Presidency would be enormously stimulated by a properly organised Exhibition. Bombay is a week nearer to Europe by sea than Calcutta, and that would tell with foreign exhibitors. It would also tell with foreign visitors of the class of those who are on the look-out for new descriptions of goods to buy and sell. There are many things in favour of Bombay which may be set off against the disadvantages which have occurred to M. Joubert's fertile mind. We doubt whether M. Joubert has ever been in Bombay ; he probably takes his estimate of the possibilities of this Presidency from the not very sanguine accounts thereof which he hears in Calcutta. The fact is that the idea of an International Exhibition to be held in this city was conceived long before M. Joubert held his first Exhibition in Australia. The plans were thought out, and if we mistake not the design for the building in which it was to be held was drafted, and is still extant. Some one of these days that design may be taken forth from its pigeon-hole and looked at with an eye to business. In the meanwhile the Calcutta Exhibition is in a fair way to prosper, and the Bombay exhibits are certainly not the least worthy of those under its roof ; we make a note of the two facts, and wait.

We have summarised the facts relating to indigenous education and the recommendations based by the Commission upon them. We may, however, broadly recapitulate. There is a system of education indigenous in India, the siding and improvement of which the Commission regards as an important means of extending elementary education. This system has existed from immemorial time out. At the present moment it is the foundation of the magnificent Primary School system of Bengal with its 18,834 primary institutions : it is the foundation, too, of the system in Madras, which is greatly helped by private enterprise ; and alone in Bombay it may be said to have dwindled to the vanishing point before the rise of the cess-schools. In addition, there are nearly 7,000 unaided indigenous schools in the North-West Provinces and Oudh. There are 4,600 similar institutions in the Punjab. In the remaining backward Provinces—Assam, Coorg, the Hyderabad Assigned Districts—there is also a distinct indigenous system of education. But only in Bengal and Madras can the State be rightly said to have utilised the indigenous system to any sufficient or successful extent. Furthermore, this system is confined to the Hindus, Mahommedaus, and Sikhs, to the pathsala of the one, the maktab of the other, and the Gurmukh school of the third. It has features of uniformity general throughout India. The organization is more or less complete, not different essentially. Long before British rule indigenous education deserved the name of national education. In every large village boys and girls went to school. There are, generally speaking, three classes—high-religious, middle-secular, bazaar-commercial. The first dominated by caste, the second democratic, the third elementary and mixed. These to the number of, roundly, 25,000, spread over the nine Provinces of India, 354,655 scholars, male and female, attend their noisy classes daily ; and of these 253,344 in no departmental way receive any benefit from the State system. But the really sterling facts about indig

H. E. THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF returned to Poona from Satara on Wednesday, and yesterday a salute of 17 guns was fired by the Mountain Battery to announce his arrival.

WE hear that the results of the post-mortem examination held, under orders from Government, on the remains of the late Rajah of Kolhapur showed that death resulted from a rupture of the spleen, which was abnormally enlarged. The deceased Prince had been suffering from this cause for some months. His remains were escorted with all due honour to the usual burning-place of his family at Ahmednuggur—a crowd of some 3,000 persons witnessing the cremation.

THERE was a sudden increase in the number of deaths from cholera in Bombay last week. For some time past there have been very few cholera deaths reported, but last week there were ten, three of which occurred in the Mandvie, and one each in the Market, Dongri, Bhaudawari, Kamatwari, 2nd Nagpada, Camatteepoora, and Water divisions.

THE following alterations in the table of fees for the Prothonotary's Office, sanctioned by Her Majesty's High Court of Judicature, have occurred in by His Excellency the Governor in Council, and published:—"In lieu of the 30th paragraph of the table of fees for the Prothonotary's Office, and of the second item in the Miscellaneous Fees, the following shall be the fees on and after the 1st January, 1884:—Applications for execution of a decree or order, Rs. 7; taking custody of moneys paid into Court or deposited in lieu of bail or as security, 1 per cent."

THE following is the official summary of the Bombay Presidency district Season Reports for the week ended on the 26th inst.:—"The river continues low in Sind. Slight rain has fallen in parts of Dharwar. Rabi prospects are good, except in Sholapur. The crops are suffering from blight in parts of Kaladgi, Belgaum, and Dharwar. Slight cholera is reported in parts of Surat, Thana, and Satara. Fever, cattle-disease, and small-pox are present in a few districts. No reason is assigned for the unfavourable report as to the rabi crops in the Sholapur district.

A NEW set of Rules of orders of the High Court of Judicature at Bombay, to come into force from the 1st January next, appears in yesterday's Bombay Government Gazette.

DESCRIPTIONS are published of three convicts who escaped from the Andamans during the month of November, and a reward of Rs. 100 is offered for information that will lead to the recapture of each of them. One of these men was sentenced in April, 1882, by the Sessions Court of Karwar to seven years' penal servitude for dacoity. The other two are both "life" convicts, and were sentenced by the Agent to the Governor-General at Indore in May, 1881, for dacoity with murder. The first man is a Deoli Maratha, and the other two are Bheels.

COLONEL BRINE, writing on board the s.s. Clan Mackenzie, off Suez, 7th December, says:—"We left the Colombo splendid breakwater at 6 p.m., 23rd, and arrived here this morning without a stop, at 9—3,391 miles in 318 hours, or 13¼ days. Baker Pasha has gone to Suakim, twenty-three days from Hicks' army and three from this by steamer, or I should say, is going from Cairo in three days, as doubts are expressed, owing to want of intelligence, about Hicks' misfortune. Here we found five steamers, and we all go into the Canal at 9 a.m."

THERE appears to be no doubt that the Salvationists, though their first appearance in India was not very promising, are making good progress. This is evidenced in various ways, and perhaps as plainly as any by the fact that Major Tucker has been able to take the substantial new building at present occupied by the Army Head Quarters in Bombay, near the Crawford Markets, on a ten years' lease. Proof of their prosperity is also afforded by a balance-sheet they have just published, which shows that to date the Indian branch of the "Army," after paying expenses, has accumulated a credit balance of Rs. 12,15-6. The expenses have not been of a high character either, the average amount spent for the thirteen months from the time the pioneers of the force landed in Bombay to the end of September last being a fraction over Rs. 1,809 per month. The accounts are not given in great detail, the only information furnished as to the sources of revenue and the destination of payments being contained in an explanatory note to the effect that "they include advance from Head-Quarters to open the campaign, collections, sales of War Cry, &c., also expenses of travelling, publishing, rents, support of officers, &c." These accounts are contained in an "Indian Salvation Calendar" just issued, which gives also portraits of the chief officers of the "Army," male and female, and a variety of Salvationist items. Among the list of officers we find the following ladies' names:—Maud Tucker, Captain Anna Franks, Captain Marian Thompson, Head-Quarters Staff; Captain Selina Rolley at Bombay; Captain Lizzie Usher; Cadet Sarah Mathews, Calcutta; Lieutenant Esther Lazarus, Madras; Captain Lizzie Horne and Lieutenant Eliza Simpson, Poona; Captain Victoria Roberts and Lieutenant Annie Wells, Lahore; and Lieutenant Dora Gladwin, Colombo. The Indian "Army" possesses a full Staff, including Accountant-General, Paymaster, Chief Secretary, &c.

THE Madras Municipal Bill does not appear to commend itself to the native community. On Saturday evening a meeting was held in Patcheappa's Hall, at which a memorial to the Viceroy against the Bill was adopted. One of the speakers objected that the Bill fell short of what was required. They had had the elective principle working in Madras for some time, but it had not worked satisfactorily, the reason being, not that the people were not fit for it, but simply for them to take a great interest in such affairs, but they saw that they had no voice in the work. It was not certainly what they desired, or deserved. (Applause.) The Municipal Board was composed of six elected members and some nominated members. The latter, he admitted, had attended conscientiously as the elected members, therefore there was no complaint that Commissioners had not done their duty. The complaint was against the Government and their hands and [illegible] The President and Standing Committee did most of the work; the rest of the Commissioners were ornamental. Naturally enough, when so much work was thrown upon the President, it was necessary to give him a high salary. Eventually a memorial, of which the following are the main points, was adopted:—

"That all the powers and duties of the Corporation should be vested primarily in the hands of the Commissioners; that the Commissioners should have the power to elect from among themselves an Honorary President and Vice-Presidents, and to enable them to do so, the salaried offices of President and Vice-Presidents should be abolished; that the local Government should have no patronage whatever in appointing Municipal officers, and none of the appointments should be made except by, or with the concurrence of, Commissioners; that to raise the Corporation to this standard of usefulness, all the Commissioners, or at least two-thirds of them, should be elected by the rate-payers, subject to control by the local Government up to that point; that the Standing Committee, which is too limited to contain members conversant with all branches of the Municipal administration, should be abolished, and the Commissioners should have the power to form among themselves such and so many separate Committees as may guarantee the special knowledge and exclusive attention such department may require; and that ordinarily the Government should have no control over Municipal officers, with certain exceptions."

A GOOD deal of uncertainty as to the marriage tie appears to prevail in Burma. Lately the Acting Recorder, Mr. Allen, referred the important question as to whether the Recorder's Court has any jurisdiction to divorce Buddhists to the High Court of Bengal; and in a new Note by Dr. Forchhammer, we learn that there is some anxiety in Rangoon lest the Bengal authorities decide that no such jurisdiction exists. In another substantial respect there is a similar uncertainty. A great many married women act as if a wife can divorce herself, while the husbands are usually of the contrary opinion. Quarrels and even murder, Mr. Jardine who writes a preface to the Note tells us, not infrequently ensue. Mr. Jardine, it further appears, is only waiting for a proper opportunity when sitting in appeal to open up the whole law of divorce in Burma and create some reliable precedent for the general guidance in the subordinate tribunals.

WHILE the Madras Government are supplementing their teak requirements by the importation of Australian timber as an experimental substitute, the Statesman remarks, teak-wood is being wastefully applied to the purpose of common sleepers by the railway authorities at Rajmundgaon, on the Nagpore-Chuttisgurh line. The beautiful and till lately almost extensive teak forests of Chanda (a feudatory State), among the finest in India, have been so denuded that very few large trees are left, and even saplings ten inches in diameter have been destroyed by the thousand. Soon the inquirer for this wood in the Central Provinces will travel from Dan to Beersheba, finding all barren.

THE report of the Punjab Ladies' Missionary Conference, held about a year ago, which has only just been published, is an interesting little volume of more than a hundred pages of closely printed matter, giving the views of a large body of Christian workers on the various subjects connected with woman's work in India. Fifty-two ladies were present, representing the nine Missionary Societies now engaged in zenana, educational, and evangelistic work in the province. The subjects treated were Native Christian Girls' Normal Schools, Christian Girls' Schools, Evangelistic Work amongst Women, the Probation, Baptism, and Support of Converts, Normal Schools for Hindus and Mahomedans, Bazar Schools, Zenana Schools, the Training of Christian Women, the Salaries of Native Helpers, General Literature, Village Missions, Sunday Schools, Orphanages, Hospital Work and City and Village Dispensaries for Women.

THE Penang Gazette relates the following tragic occurrence. The ring of the Electric Circus was a scene of the greatest excitement at Noumea on the occasion of Lehmann's last performance. There was an overcrowded house. Lehmann as clown, and chief proprietor of the show, exerted himself to the best of his ability in order to give satisfaction to his patrons. Just after he had finished one of his acts, and given an immense jump into the ring, he turned round to one of the men, and said, "I feel ill," and in a few seconds he dropped dead within the circle. There was great excitement in the circus; some ladies fainted, and of course an immediate stop was put to the performance. Great sympathy was expressed for Mrs. Lehmann, who was present, and the people of Noumea have raised a sum of £104 for her. An inquiry was held into the death of the deceased, and it was found to have been caused through aneurism of the heart.

THE British Medical Journal of December 1, 1883, has the following:—A horse ambulance carriage has just been presented to the St. John Ambulance Association by a member of the committee. This vehicle was designed by Mr. John Furley, Deputy Chairman. It will carry three patients on stretchers, and two persons seated, as well as two on the box. The carriage is constructed of English and American ash, with roof of thick duck on iron framework. It has sliding plate-glass windows, framed in mahogany and set in borders of walnut wood. The fittings are very complete, and include a small chest for hospital comforts. This carriage is intended for use in the streets of London.

MR. MATTHEW ARNOLD'S American audiences seem to be nine-tenths ladies. At a recent lecture admirers of a very sprightly but deep philosophes will regret to hear Mr. Arnold declared that Emerson was one of the illusions of his youth. What Mr. Arnold, however, means is that tried by standards like Milton, Cicero, Plato, Montaigne (who, by the way, is an atrocious bore), La Bruyere, and Addison, Emerson must be held neither a great poet, a great philosopher, nor a great writer.

THE Board of Trade has issued a memorandum containing a complete statement of the case for further legislation with respect to merchant shipping, pointing out especially where the existing law needs amendment.

Truth says:—"From this time there will be a weekly mail communication with Australia. The Orient steamers are in future to leave England in alternate weeks with those of the P. and O. Company, and they have at last obtained a contract with the Post Office, and are in every way on the same footing with the steamers of the old Company, which has so long enjoyed an absolute monopoly, to the great inconvenience of the public.

MR. H. B. DAVENPORT, in the Nineteenth Century for December, tells a story which some people would say was profane. Here it is:—

Another host, who combined a highly religious temperament with an uncontrollable temper, on something going wrong with the beat, burst into paroxysms of fury with his keeper, to whom he used most unparliamentary language. A minute or two afterwards, the keeper coolly down again, he called the man up to him, and asked in subdued and penitent accents, "What did I call you just now, Smith?" "Well, sir," Smith replied, not without a tone of pardonable soreness, "you called me a d——d infernal fool!" "Did I, Smith, did I really? I'm very sorry. Oh! to think that one Christian man should use such language as that to another! Heaven forgive me! But," he shouted in his stentorian tones, as his rage suddenly returned, "it's God's truth all the same!"

PUBLIC slave-sales are reported from Tangier as having recently taken place. A negress about twenty years of age sold for 36 dollars; a girl of twelve for 21 dollars; and one of eighteen for 25 dollars. Since April 10 slaves are said to have been sold in the streets of Tangier. If the Soudan trade receives an impetus from the Egyptian abandonment of interference with it, the number is likely to increase.

AN Ottawa paper has the subjoined:—A correspondent writes us as follows:—I went the other night to see Mrs. Langtry in The School for Scandal. I have witnessed the play a score of times, and have seen the leading character performed by many noted actresses, and I confess I went more for the purpose of seeing the lady than enjoying the comedy. I had read criticisms of her acting, and from them I was led to expect merely an agreeable amateur performance, so far as she was concerned. I was never more agreeably surprised in my life, and say emphatically that Mrs. Langtry's performance of this character will bear comparison with that of any actress now on the boards. There was a naturalness and spontaniety about her acting which was perfectly charming and suited the character to a nicety. Amateur indeed! It this is amateur acting the sooner some of our old stagers introduce a little of the amateur element into their delineations the better for them and for their audiences. Mrs. Langtry has departed a little from tradition in the famous "screen scene," and it struck me as being very natural and effective. When the screen is thrown down, Lady Teazle, instead of standing motionless in her place, as is customary, covers her face with her fan and attempts to escape in the character of the little milliner. She is arrested by Charles, and, when recognized by Sir Peter, stands in the centre of the stage a charming picture of shame and humiliation. Her burst of indignation when denouncing the hypocrisy of Joseph Surface shows the possession of much dramatic power, while as a proof of her attention to detail I may mention that she enters the room slightly flushed from the consciousness of the dangerous step she is taking, but when discovered behind the screen her face is pale as death.

IT may not be generally known that the historical church doors upon which Luther nailed his famous ninety-five theses at Wittenberg in 1517 are now to be seen at the chief entrance to the church of St. Bartholomew at Berlin. Wittenberg was bombarded during the Seven Years' War, and the church being almost levelled with the ground, the doors were hardly damaged. They were, however, patched up and restored to their places, and the church was rebuilt; but as they suffered a good deal from the effects of the weather, they were in time removed for safety to the Berlin Museum, where they remained until King Frederick William IV. presented them to the Church of St. Bartholomew to replace the old ones. For the original doors, which are popularly known in Germany as the "Gates of the Reformation," new ones of bronze, engraved with Luther's theses, have been substituted at Wittenberg. These were given by the castle church in 1858 by King Frederick William IV., and are said to be the finest things of their kind in Europe.

During the voyage one follower died from natural causes. The Dagmar brought the following troops:—Captain J. Grant, Lieut. L. H. G. Reyman, 1 tindal, 29 lascars, 1 man, Med. Dept. 1 private, Adjutant Genl's. Dept., 1 follower, and 2 officers' servants. The Czarwitch will sail for Kurrachee in tow of the Dagmar to-morrow, the 29th inst., with the right wing of the 26th Regiment N. I., consisting of Major J. R. Watson, Lieut. P.R. SIR FREDERICK ROBERTS and suite arrived at the camp-of-exercise station at Kistnarajpuram, on Saturday morning, by mail-train from Madras; and immediately mounted his horse, and rode to his own camp on the Madras road to the east of the station. After viewing the camp, he started at a gallop across country to the site of the camp of the 1st Division, and after closely inspecting the ground round it, returned, and crossed the line at Kistnarajpuram station, and proceeded by the new road made by the 4th Pioneer to the site of the Second Division camp. His Excellency was accompanied by his personal staff, and also by General Stewart, the Quartermaster-General, Colonel McInroy, the Deputy Commissary-General, Captain Wylly, the Transport Superintendent, and the Assistant Quartermaster-General of Divisions. After inspecting the site of the Second Division camps, which was shewn to him by Major Hutchins, the Acting Quartermaster-General of the Division, Sir Frederick Roberts rode on to the ground chosen for the Cavalry camp, which was pointed out to him by Captain Yates, R. H. A., Acting Quartermaster-general of the Cavalry Division. After galloping over the whole ground, the Chief returned to breakfast at his Head-Quarter camp, across the country, crossing the railway line by the level-crossing at the village of Ijadi. It is understood that he has selected the high open, near the Second Division camp for the grand march past of the whole force after the manœuvres. This is the same plateau upon which the march past of the whole force took place before Lord Napier of Magdala and Sir Frederick Haines at the camp-of-exercise held in 1874. After breakfasting at his camp, His Excellency went to Bangalore by the mid-day train, and left again for Octacamund by the mail-train the same evening.

SIR BARTLE FRERE AND THE ILBERT BILL.

THE Times publishes the following letter:—

"38, Parliament-street, December 3, 1883.

"Dear Sir Bartle Frere,—After the lapse of three months, during which the British India Committee had, I think, given up the hope of being honoured with a response from you, I observe in The Times of to-day a letter from you, to the hon. secretaries on the Ilbert Bill.

"Your appeal to me personally as having intimately known your public life during a great portion of your actual service in India, to support your assertion that you always endeavoured to give all the practical effect in your power to the just and noble policy of the Queens' proclamation of 1858, I can respond to by saying that, from my own personal observation, you were never slack in your sympathy towards the natives, and in the consideration and kindness you displayed towards them; such, indeed, formed a distinguishing characteristic of your administration. So much the more, therefore, will it be matter of regret to all of them, and to not a few Englishmen likewise that you should be unable to give the weight of your name in support of Lord Ripon's measure for amending the code of criminal procedure.

"You consider that the Ilbert Bill would be intrusting the power to try a European British subject to men, who, experience shows, are frequently not qualified for the due discharge of such judicial functions over alien races either by education, or by integrity. But how is it that these same native judges have exercised, for I know not how many years, and still exercise, such a power over American, French, German, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian, Dutch, Belgian, and Russian subjects, and the subjects of all other nations without reproach—to say nothing of having been judges in civil suits, in which European British subjects and all others are concerned for nearly 50 years.

"You speak of the 'indiscriminate' intrusting of these powers, whereas, if I have read rightly Mr. Ilbert's speech on the 9th of March last, and the speeches of the Viceroy, Sir Steuart Bayley, and others, the Bill, even before the recent proposed modifications, was very limited in scope only including men of great experience and trustworthiness—specially selected native magistrates.

"You speak of the 'unfairness' of the jury system to the accused. Of course, the Government will now have peace—will the country have peace?—will the race strife cease—but this is at the sacrifice of an essential principle of its measure and of the political prospects of the people. For at least half a century to come no Government will dare touch this subject again. A practical lesson will be taught reform for years to come. And what a lesson for the children of the soil! Here was a body of Anglo-Indians, who denounced the Government in no measured terms, who heaped insults upon the Viceroy, the Queen's Representative, and threatened the country with rebellion, for the sake of a measure, which promised only a small instalment of justice to the people, and they are rewarded with a capitulation than which there could not be a greater humiliation to a Government. We do not blame the Anglo-Indians, they were quite right in fighting for their own cause, and may well rejoice at the triumph they have achieved. But if there was an occasion when all classes of the native community should combine and protest against the policy of Government, sinking all differences of opinion and feeling, it is this.

The Indian Mirror says:—It is with feelings of intense disappointment and indignation that the native community have learned yesterday that the intelligence of a concordat having been arranged between the Executive Council of the Viceroy and the Defence Association regarding the Ilbert Bill. We confess we find it impossible to congratulate the Government of India either on the decision it has arrived at, or on its having allowed itself to be practically dictated to by its opponents. We have scarcely time to-day to do more than indicate the general feeling of sorrow and indignation with which the news has been received by the entire Native community. We are sincerely anxious to do all we can to support the Government of a Viceroy, who has so thoroughly endeared himself to the people of this country, and we can readily understand the enormous difficulties of His Excellency's position in this matter, but making every allowance for the embarrassment of the Government, we cannot but express that the Members of His Excellency's Council have forced His Excellency to give his sanction to what we fear, will be regarded by the country at large as a serious political blunder. So far as we have been able to ascertain within the few hours which have elapsed since the publication of the decision of the Government, the general opinion among the educated classes of Calcutta is that the proposed modifications place the European British subjects in a more suitable position than they would have been placed by the total abandonment of the Bill, and that by allowing a European British subject the right to claim a Jury in the case of every offence, however petty or trivial, even existing powers of a District Magistrate are considerably curtailed, while it becomes impossible for any Native Judge or Magistrate of any grade ever to try a European prisoner without the aid of a Jury. We are sincerely anxious to say a word in a partizan-really at issue, in such articles as those of Sir Arthur Hobhouse in the Contemporary Review, not to mention articles in other reviews.

"I am at a loss to imagine to what special circumstances you allude when you refer to the management of the controversy having been marked by incidents which fill you with shame and gloomy forebodings, and rejoice to observe that you do not refer in the slightest degree to the British India Committee.

"Once more, respectfully expressing my regret that you should not be found on what until now had been the side of all the most eminent British statesmen, Whig and Tory, Liberal and Conservative.

"I remain, yours faithfully.

"GEORGE FOGGO."

THE ILBERT BILL COMPROMISE.

THE Ilbert Bill Compromise continues to form a fruitful subject of comment both in the native and English papers. The Indian Daily News says:—The Native Press consider that it would have been simpler for the Government to have withdrawn the Bill, and perhaps there are few who will not take this view; but the Government, after the statements of Lords Kimberley and Northbrook, and November 8th, received here on December 1st, appears to have felt itself compelled to pass the Bill in some shape. In order, therefore, that the Bill might be passed in a form to which no strong objection is possible, except that any bill must be objectionable, the Government has given the European community the safeguard of a trial by a jury where the majority must be Europeans. Now, this is as great a safeguard as could reasonably be asked for, and as it was impossible, without making a race distinction more palpable than ever to give a jury only in the case of native officials, the Government have followed the concession to its logical conclusion, and given a jury in all cases where a District Magistrate may preside at a trial of an European offender. When we consider that the majority of District Magistrates must always be Europeans, the true proportions of the compromise and the true gain to the European community becomes apparent; and we understand why the meeting at Rangoon accepted the settlement, and why in London it is considered 'eminently satisfactory.' When it is closely looked into we have no fear that it will prove unsatisfactory, and the community will understand that, should agitation be again necessary that they have escaped the responsibility of forcing on an extreme and most dissatisfactory controversy. Men may well be glad to be quit of the responsibility of the dispute, but we see no cause for undue elation. Conflicts of this sort produce wounds which take long to heal, and round issues which are not allayed in a moment. After a storm the waves do not at once subside into absolute calm, and yet men may be glad that the storm has spent itself and that they may turn their thoughts to their daily occupations without the fear of being called away by bad weather. The Bombay Gazette reviews the matter in a tone of pique, and forgets that these concessions and this settlement could only have been proposed by Government. The European community was strictly on its defence, and knew that being so, it was for the Government to make the first advance. The compromises heretofore put forward were not compromises at all but demands for surrender, and hence the failure. The whole European community was determined on resistance. If that community has ceased to contend, it is because there is nothing now for which it should contend.

The Indigo Planters' Gazette says:—"If we understand aright the statement that no other than a Native Judge, and no Native District Magistrate is to exercise criminal jurisdiction over European British subjects, it seems to us that this is a concession on the part of the Council of the Defence Association amounting to an abandonment of the principle of the Bill as understood by the opponents of the Ilbert Bill. The opponents of this measure have maintained that the extending of the power to Native Magistrates outside Presidency Towns, was a mistake, could not be justified. They believed that the granting of that power to Native Magistrates in Presidency Towns was a grave mistake, which the public opinion of Presidency Towns, the large numbers of Europeans and Eurasians would not allow. Legal opinion and aid could be obtained prevented from becoming what, it is held, it would be sure to become in the Mofussil, a ready means not of justice, but of injustice. The principle of the Bill as understood by the Government of India is the principle admitted in 1872, namely, that Native Magistrates should have the power of trying European British subjects. The Government will, we suppose, given up their principle and the Government have upheld and carried in triumph their, namely, that Native Judges shall have jurisdiction over European British subjects outside of Presidency Towns. It seems to us that on this point the Government have scored a victory. The second term of the agreement stipulates that the European British subject who has been tried before a Native District Judge, or a Native District Magistrate, will be entitled to claim as of right to be tried by a jury, the majority of whom shall consist of European British subjects. This, it appears to us, is a concession on the part of the Government which, so far as we are aware, has not been asked for during the course of this controversy. Englishmen asked to be tried by their peers, meaning by that, that no officer before whom they should appear in criminal matters, should be a man of their own race, with a knowledge presumably of the race characteristics, social habits and modes of thought of Englishman. The presiding Judge, however, according to the agreement, is not to be an Englishman, he is to be a Native of a certain judicial standing, who will have to "charge" the jury and keep them straight on points of law. Where the jury, containing a majority of European British subjects are to come from in some mofussil districts, is not quite apparent to us. The third term of the agreement makes the right of trial by jury universal over every district in India, and the fourth makes a jury trial imperative in all criminal cases, even when the presiding judge is himself an Englishman. We suspend our judgment on the agreement, until the new Bill with the terms embodied has been published. Meanwhile we shall only say that we have very grave doubts whether this "Concordat" does not run a good chance of being repudiated by the bulk of the community, who may justly hold that, before closing with any terms offered by the Government Council of the Defence Association might have taken the sense of the community in public meeting assembled.

The Indian Empire, says:—We beg to express our deliberate and well-considered opinion that we must congratulate the Government of India and the Defence Association on it having arrived at a satisfactory compromise from the theories of Ripon, Aitchison, Ilbert, Hunter, and others. Happily the sense of a common danger has knit together past and present Anglo Indians in one body, whose banner may well be the cross of St. George. Whether the Government of India had to withdraw the Bill altogether, or whether the Anglo-Indians had to accept it with such modifications as have been made, we are glad that the long and painful controversy is at last ended. We have always held that the Bill was a mistake, and that it would be better for the Anglo-Indians of subsequent years to enter a firm resistance to any further attempt to hand indeed the native fellow subjects to advance into an attitude of hostility towards the rule Government. Under the circumstances, we are glad that the Anglo-Indians have come to a compromise which will not be a source of danger to the future. The dignity of the Government will not be interfered with, for less compromised for the principle of the Bill will be not only not abandoned, but scrupulously maintained and established; the clamour against the measure generally and undeservedly cast on native magistrates and judges in 1872 by prospectively denying them full powers belonging to their office, will meet with thorough repudiation. Let us see now if the remaining terms of the agreement constitute an unwarranted and unjustifiable concession to the Anglo-Indian wishes, or are calculated to practically nullify the investment of native Magistrates and Judges with criminal jurisdiction over Europeans. Here again we must give it as our deliberate and well-considered opinion that the remaining terms of the agreement do not constitute an unwarranted and unjustifiable concession to the Anglo-Indian wishes, and are not calculated to practically nullify the principle of the Bill. The Anglo-Indians perhaps asked the Viceroy and his Executive Council for an extension of the system of trial by Jury which now obtains in Sessions Courts in the mofussil. We believe Lord Ripon and his Executive Council,—the authors of the memorable despatch of her Majesty's Secretary of State of the 10th August last—would have simply stultified themselves and belied their professions by denying them their prayer, which, being granted, could only result in an improvement in the administration of justice. It would indeed be the height of absurdity to think that it is derogatory to the judge to be associated with a jury deciding cases; on the contrary, we are disposed to think that the more the system of trial by jury is extended the

ORIGINAL PREPARATION OF PHOSPHORUS, FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY, NEURALGIA, AND OTHER DEPRESSED STATE OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM.

THE restorative Power of Phosphorus is most remarkable and cures are effected by these preparations in cases that have resisted all other Medicines. In these forms it is as harmless as Quinine and as better to its inspiriting action.

SIMPLE PHOSPHORUS PILL, No. 1.

This Pill affords considerable relief when the system is jaded and worn out by overwork or mental strain inducing temporary nervous exhaustion. Its exhilarating and energising effect is most marked.

PHOSPHORUS AND QUININE PILL, No. 3.

This is a valuable Restorative. It acts as a nutrient and tonic to the entire nervous system, giving power to the brain and spinal cord and to the functions presided over by them. It gives tone to the digestive organs and improves the condition of the whole body.

PHOSPHORUS AND NUX-VOMICA, No. 8.

This Pill is useful in ATONIC DYSPEPSIA and LOWNESS of SPIRITS arising from overwork. It is useful in cases of functional impotence occurring in prematurely aged and debilitated subjects.

PHOSPHORUS, IRON AND CANTHARIDES, No. 30.

This Pill is especially useful in CHRONIC URETHRAL DISEASES and in ATONY or PARALYSIS of the BLADDER. It is employed with much success in the same cases as the PHOSPHORUS and NUX-VOMICA PILL.

COMPOUND PHOSPHORUS PILL.

Composed of Phosphorus, Quinine, Iron, & Nux-Vomica. This is an invaluable remedy for nervous diseases characterized by Debility, Poverty of Blood, and loss of Nerve Power. It cures NEURALGIA, NERVOUS EXHAUSTION, LOWNESS of SPIRITS and other manifestations of Nervous Exhaustion very rapidly. Brain-workers, Clergymen, Professional and Busy Commercial Men who are habitually overworked derive great benefit from a course of this combination of tonics. For convalescents from fevers and other exhausting diseases this RESTORATIVE is superior to all others.

CAUTION.

Messrs. Kirby & Co. have to caution the Medical Profession and the Public against several imitations of their well known preparations. Some of these imitations are made with Powdered Phosphorus, and are exceedingly dangerous, while others are perfectly inert. Every genuine bottle of KIRBY'S Original Preparation bears the Trade Mark and Signature of the Firm. Purchase therefore only of their authorized agents.

SAL MINERALIS,

A tasteless alkaline aperient salt composed of the active ingredients of FRIEDRICHSHALL, PULLNA, HUNGARIAN AND OTHER MINERAL WATERS.

This Salt is recommended as a CONVENIENT PORTABLE AND EFFICIENT SUBSTITUTE for the ALKALINE MINERAL WATERS. It may be taken in all cases in which these are found to be beneficial. As a SIMPLE and MILD aperient it is both safe and effectual.

In GOUT, GOUTY and RHEUMATIC affections and in PLETHORIC CONDITIONS of the system and in Hæmorrhoids (Piles) SAL MINERALIS is the BEST APERIENT. For persons disposed to habitual constipation and undergoing a course of Tonics, especially Iron or Phosphorus, it is a good aperient for GENERAL USE.

Sold in boxes containing 24 doses.
